

Content Design Notes

Director: Max

Designer: Lilia

- Selective color in design—everything else on grayscale. The color itself will be determined by experimentation, but could also depend on the images used.
- For landscape images, I would like to feature a lot of historical paintings. These will be as large as they can without losing too much quality. Other pictures will be historical portraits, and will likely be black and white.
- I would like the fonts to be mostly serif, but experimentation is encouraged.
- I would like the homepage to resemble a timeline in visual style, without actually putting down dates. Also I would like the page links on the homepage to have an intractable element.
- The “forces” page’s placement on the home page can be experimented with, seeing as it doesn’t fall in with the chronological events.